TOWNS IN RIVALRY FOR ROOSEVELT

Indiana Promises Big Crowd to Hear His Speech.

Indianapolis, July 17.—State Chairman Lee is finding the proposed appearance of former President Roosevelt in the campaign here a source of great worry because of the insistent demands from Republicans in various localities that the districts or cities in which they happen to live should have the benefit of the only speech that Col. Roosevelt proposes to make in Indiana.

Evansville, South Bend, Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, and a half dozen other cities have asked for the speech, and in some of the close Congressional districts the leaders and the candidates are very insistent. It has been assumed that Indianapolis, being the central and largest city, would be selected, and this has caused a good deal of feeling, especially on account of the outside sentiment that Indianapolis gets everything.

Chairman Lee does not himself know where Roosevelt will speak, but is very anxious that he should make more than one speech in the State. The committee will run a special train for the former President's benefit if he will agree to make two or three set speeches, but if only one is to be delivered in the State it is proposed to have a talk of a few minutes at each of the principal cities and towns through which he passes in coming to and leaving the place selected for the speech.

The leaders here say that if Indianapolis is selected by the committee, whose wishes will be conclusive in the matter, this city will witness the biggest crowd in its history, not excepting the Decoration Day crowd that greeted Roosevelt four years ago.

SPEECHES FOR WESTERN TRIP.

Roosevelt So Busy He Will Have Few Visitors This Week.

Oyster Bay, July 17.—Theodore Roosevelt came to church today in real summer attire, which consisted of a shiny white duck suit. Mrs. Roosevelt and Archie were with him. The gallery on the green outside the church was a little larger than normal to-day, for a crowd of boys appeared on the scene before church was out and waited for the Roosevelts.

When he came out Mr. Roosevelt waved his panama at them, but didn't pause for a reception.

The next week at Sagamore Hill is to be a quiet one. Col. Roosevelt wants to write some of the speeches for his Western trip, and does not expect to have many visitors or any political conferences.

Mrs. Champ Clark Returns.

New York, July 17.—Mrs. Champ Clark, who has been traveling in Europe with her daughter, got back today by the Anchor liner Columbia. She attended the world's missionary conference at Edinburgh, and saw the "Passion Play"

WARM FIGHT AT UTICA.

Roosevelt's Nephew Injects Fire-works Into Campaign.

Utica, July 17.—The candidacy of Theodore Douglas Robinson, nephew of Col. Roosevelt, for the Congressional nomination in the Twenty-seventh district has sent the politicians all up in the air. If reports are true, that "shadow of the famous big stick" is giving them nightmares.

The Herkimer County convention to select delegates will be held at Little Falls in two weeks, and then the machine men and the insurgents will match their strength, and Mr. Robinson will discover just what his chances are for filling the seat in the House of Representatives so long occupied by Vice President Sherman.

State Committeeman Strobel, the Republican boss in Herkimer County, is exerting all his influence to secure a renomination for Representative Millington.

SPALDING IN SENATE RACE.

Millionaire Files Application at the Last Hour.

Sacramento, Cal., July 17.—At the eleventh hour A. G. Spalding, the millionaire sporting goods man, filed his application from San Diego as a candidate for the United States Senate. Spalding went to Point Loma, the Theosophist colony at San Diego, because his wife wanted to be near Katharine Tingley, the "purple mother." He has been urged by his friends to run for the Senate, but he only consented at the last minute, and his application was brought North by State Senator Leroy Wright and filed with the secretary of state just half an hour before midnight, when the office closed.

POET BANQUETS FRIENDS.

San Francisco, July 17.—Joaquin Miller, poet of the Sierras, gave a Mexican bandit lunch yesterday to sixty members of the Sequoia Club at his home on the heights back of Oakland, where Fremont first saw the Bay of San Francisco and named its entrance the Golden Gate.

There is much speculation over the mysterious lunch, but it opened with cocktails mixed by the poet, who claimed the recipe came from Fremont and Walt Whitman. Then came barbecued beef and bacon and onions in Mexican style, all washed down with California claret served from large three-gallon demijohns.

After luncheon the poet told of his first visit to his present home, when he surprised a black bear eating the carcass of a cow that he had killed. This looked like a promising place to the poet, who wished to lead a simple life, and he bought two acres of land. Since then he has added many acres and planted thousands of trees. He has raised a pyramid to Moses, built a Browning tower of rocks, and a monument to Fremont.

Poet Miller, before he led his guests up the hill to these monuments, warned them that no one who had violated any of the Ten Commandments could climb with him to Moses' pyramid; but everyone went up the trail.

STAR OF EARLY BALL DAYS

Albert G. Spalding One of the Great Figures of the National Game.

Remember how the tenor in white duck pants slides out under the green spotlight and whines a ditty on the advisability of obeying mamma, boy, because she loves you so? Well, that's very fine for the tenor, but if Albert Goodwill Spalding had not played that system with a copper he would not be swapping eggs for sugar in some back country grocery in Illinois, says the New York Globe.

Whereas—having taken mamma's advice until he was in the hole—he forgot his filial duty and went out and made a fortune. Now he is a candidate for the Senate in California, and the upright—but changeable—Gov. Gillett, who is also a candidate, will go to go some to beat him to it. At least that's what Spalding's followers say.

He is best known in the sporting world as the proprietor of a sporting house in Chicago. Few know that he had in recent years become a resident of California. Few still remember back to the days when "Al" Spalding was the greatest pitcher the diamond had ever known, and in a later development the proprietor of the first grand tour of the world with a baseball team. And no one at all has a fund of reminiscences reaching back to the days when he was a $5 a week bookkeeper in various groceries and other mercantile enterprises in Rockford, Ill. The word "curious" is used advisedly for the arrival of the earnest Mr. Spalding, pen behind ear and sleeves rolled up, was a signal for the proprietor to put up the shutters. The list of commercial casualties that followed his initial ventures in business is appalling. No blame was attached to Spalding. He was just a jinx, and he couldn't help it.

And all that time he had been practicing a few new angles of the art of throwing a baseball in such fashion that an earnest, somewhat perspired person, standing at a fixed distance from the thrower and hefting an ash club, would miss said hurled ball by the length of a city block. At seventeen Spalding was offered $2,500 a year to join various professional clubs, his defeat of the Nationals, of Washington, by his pitching for the amateur team of Rockford having brought him into the limelight. But his mother felt that $5 a week as a grocery clerk was more to be preferred than the $2,500 a year.

OPPOSES CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

Norristown Fears $5,000 a Year Expense for Maintenance.

Norristown, Pa., July 17.—A renewal of the proposition to establish a Carnegie library in Norristown was discussed by the school board last night, and it developed that there was much opposition to establishing a library that would cost $5,000 a year to maintain. Several years ago a number of school directors were defeated for re-election for trying to force the library on the people.

Glass Workers Look for Peace.

Toledo, Ohio, July 17.—The national officers and members of the executive boards of various departments of the American Flint Glass Workers Union left here this afternoon for Atlantic City, where on Tuesday they will meet with the manufacturers of the glass industry and sign a new wage agreement.

DIES OF EXCITEMENT.

Aged Man's Anxiety to Calm Wife Causes His Death.

Wilmington, Del., July 17.—The most severe electrical storm of the season occurred here late last night. Edward S. Keyser, aged seventy-two, hurried home in order to be with his aged wife, who is afraid of storms. Just as he entered his house he dropped dead. The excitement had caused heart disease.

About the same time T. Elwood Allen, a telegraph operator in the office of the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was struck by lightning while working an instrument. He arose, and taking a few steps, fell unconscious. He was terribly shocked and for some time lay as though dead. He was senseless during the night in a hospital, but to-day regained consciousness. He may recover.

COUPLE IS KILLED BY ESCAPING GAS

Benjamin Hughes and Mrs. Kerkendall Victims.

Easton, Pa., July 17.—A night of revelry ended here this morning in the discovery of the dead bodies of Benjamin Hughes, aged thirty-five years, of 418 East Jersey street, and Mrs. Mary Kerkendall, aged forty-two, of Bayonne, N. J., a machinist in the Central Railroad shops at that place, and Mrs. Mary Kerkendall, aged forty-two, of Bayonne, N. J., who was Rinaldo Kerkendall, Hughes and Wilbur Ross, of Ellensburg, came here yesterday to visit John Schwartz, subsequently, Mrs. Schwartz, mother of Mrs. Kerkendall, and the latter's sister, Mrs. Jennie Seitz, of Phillipsburg, N. J., came to the house. There was considerable drinking, and at midnight Hughes and Mrs. Kerkendall, Ross and Mrs. Seitz went to a house on South Sitgraves street.

This morning when Mrs. Seitz awoke and did not find the others moving about, she opened the door and found the next room filled with gas and the occupants apparently suffocated. Physicians were summoned, and they pronounced the woman dead. They found signs of life in the man, but after two hours work gave up.

Hughes leaves a widow and a six-year-old daughter. Mrs. Kerkendall did not live with her husband.

The gas had been turned on accidentally.

SUNKEN YACHT DYNAMITED.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 17.—Huge columns of water were thrown 200 feet in the air when government contractors dynamited the buried hulk of the schooner yacht Mist, of the New York Yacht Club, which was driven high on the beach at St. James place in a storm several months ago. Geyers that startled promenade on the Boardwalk followed three heavy explosions that destroyed every vestige of the abandoned yacht.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Unsuccessful Attempt to Rob King Street Store.

BURGLAR IS FRIGHTENED OFF

Lieut. James Smith and Capt. James F. Webster, of the Police Force, Are Seriously Ill—Miss Jennie Kramer, Former Actress, Dies at City Hospital—Other News.

Alexandria, Va., July 17.—An unsuccessful attempt was made this afternoon to rob the stationery and tobacco store of R. E. Knight, at 621 King street. Mr. Knight's son had just opened the front door when he was attracted by the noise of breaking glass. On going to the rear end of the store, he found that the glass in the rear window of the first floor had been broken. Mr. Knight saw a man running into a near-by building and the police were notified. The man eluded capture. Nothing was missing from the store.
